Susie Isaacs' Designer Gaming Jewelry

There is one player who can always be seen sporting the finest poker-themed jewelry in the business: Susie Isaacs. And the reason is that she designs the jewelry herself! She has also made the line available to the public so that female poker players can remain stylish while conquering the game.

Isaacs' collection of jewelry includes everything from necklaces and earrings to charms and cuff links. Most are poker-themed, and many of them include all of the suits - diamonds, hearts, clubs, and spades. There are even card protectors that are sturdy, sterling silver cappers and slightly bigger than a standard poker chip - a perfect accessory to show off on the table. All are crafted with much care and with the customers' needs in mind.

The latest and most special edition to the high-quality series is the "Illusion" piece, which is a sterling silver pendant with a Swarovsky crystal - your choice of red or black - in the center. It is perfect to hang from any size silver chain, and the poker lovers will adore how all four suits of the card deck are interwoven into the design.

Whether the women in your life are casual poker players or professionals, there is a unique and beautiful gift for each of them in Isaacs' collection. (And bingo players will love the "I (heart) Bingo" pin!)

Take some time to look at all of the pieces on the website - www.SusieIsaacs.com. And while you're there, don't forget about to click on the "About Susie" section to order her newly released books. It's one-stop holiday shopping for the female poker enthusiast on your gift list! 🎰
